Summer Jobs

Foodtalk: the company is doing a large research project with Oxford University and as a result we have a lot of data that needs to be entered before the end of June. We are looking for students to help with data entry over the next couple of weeks. The pay is £7/hr and can be done from home in your own time. The collaboration with Oxford looks great on a CV and I would be happy to write a reference at the end. Must be reliable and self-motivated, would suit a student home from university or doing A-levels. Please email me at melissa@foodtalk.org.uk if interested!
